

Project Goals

To reinforce MCMC states and their public postsecondary institutions and related organizations in their efforts to guide military-connected students, MCMC has three goals:

1. Assist with critical life transitions from the military to postsecondary education and then from postsecondary education to civilian employment.
2. Increase postsecondary education completion rates by creating models for the consistent, transparent, and effective awarding of credit for military training and experience that can be scaled regionally and nationally, thereby lowering the cost of education and reducing the time to completion.
3. Establish a strong network of support, communication, documentation, and data collection among institutions and organizations for the purpose of promoting shared interests and tracking the efficacy of efforts to enhance military-connected students' educational success.

Multi-State Collaborative on Military Credit

A program of the Midwestern Higher Education Compact

ABOUT THE MCMC

The mission of the Multi-State Collaborative on Military Credit (MCMC) is to facilitate an interstate partnership of 13 STATES and to translate competencies acquired through military training and experiences into meaningful credits toward various pathways leading to a college degree, earning a certificate, industry recognized credential or license.

States and public postsecondary institutions exchange information and share promising practices in the areas of articulation of credit, certification, financial aid, data, and technology.

Midwestern Higher Education Compact provides operational and administrative support for the MCMC. This collaboration has already been recognized by Lumina Foundation, which awarded Midwestern Higher Education Compact a $900,000 grant to support the work of MCMC over a three-year period, and by Strada Education who awarded a one-year grant of $200,000 to the project.
