CC Certificate courses : Get CC Certified in open licensing!

- Courses offer Q&A with copyright lawyers, open advocates, accessibility coaches and asynchronous project work.
- Time commitment: 10 weeks online, or 1-week "bootcamp."
- Online courses start in January, June and September, and are open to everyone, but targeted for (1) Academic Librarians, (2) Educators, and (3) Cultural Heritage communities.
- Questions? Contact certificates@creativecommons.org

CC Certificate courses : Get CC Certified in open licensing!

To access the 15% discount:
 (1) Click on the registration link
 (2) Before check out, apply the promo code: MHEC15.

You should see the discount applied before purchasing a seat.

Questions?
Contact certificates@creativecommons.org

Creative Commons – University of Nebraska at Omaha Partnership

NU Advance microcredential program

- Program pilot started in early 2023

- Focuses on online microcredentials for professional development

- Some microcredentials stack to form larger pathways

Introduction to Open Educational Resources

Introduction to Open Educational Resources

May 31, 2024 - Aug 2, 2024

$351 Enroll Now

About the microcredential

- Nine weeks, 45 hours

- Created in cooperation with Creative Commons

- Copyright and CC content, spanning four weeks, was heavily adapted from CC Certificate content and reviewed by Creative Commons

- Other content includes the ecosystem of academic and scholarly publishing, OER and OA, advocacy, stakeholders and funding, student success, accessibility, assessing peer programs, and goal-setting

Coursework

- Course is run through Canvas with a combination of text, video, and audio

- Coursework consists of discussions, quizzes, real-world program assessments and creation of a mock or real-world initiative plan with measurable goals

- Professional instructional design team worked to adapt content to an online format

Questions?

Stephen Craig Finlay, OER and STEM Librarian, microcredential developer

sfinlay@unomaha.edu